By COLIN HURST

A WOMAN has confessed to the cold-blooded kidnapping and murder of a 20-year-old man whose body was dismembered and discarded in black bin bags.

University Challenge host dies

TV HOST and author Bamber Gascoigne has died at 87 following a short illness.

Gascoigne, best known as the original quizmaster of University Challenge, died at his home in Richmond, the Grange Park Opera announced on behalf of his family.

In 2014, the TV star inherited 14th century Surrey estate West Horsley Place from his aunt, the Duchess of Roxburghe, where Grange Park Opera built an opera house in the woods.

Gascoigne coined his famous catchphrases on University Challenge such as "fingers on buzzers", "your starter for 10" and "I'll have to hurry you".

The show first aired on ITV between 1962 and 1987.

It was revived on the BBC in 1994 with Jeremy Paxman as the quiz master.

Paracetamol heart scare

PEOPLE with high blood pressure who regularly take paracetamol could be at increased risk of heart disease and stroke.

Researchers say patients who have a long-term prescription for the painkiller should be given the lowest dose for the shortest time possible.

The findings indicate the effect on blood pressure is similar to tablets such as ibuprofen, which are known to increase blood pressure and risk of heart disease.

The rise in pressure might increase the risk of heart disease or a stroke by around 20 per cent.

CLUBBERS GET A CLUBBING!

Massive price rises on way for revellers

A NIGHT out is set to become "considerably more expensive" as clubs and bars plan major price rises after costs soared by more than a quarter over the past year.

Industry leaders have warned there "is little else" nightlife businesses can do than pass cost increases onto customers after being struck by higher wages, rising food and drink costs and an end to Government support measures.

The Night Time Industries Association (NTIA) said its latest survey of 198 operators revealed they saw a 26% jump in the cost of running their business.

Nightclubs, bars, casinos and companies in the supply chain say this includes an 18% rise in the cost of stock, including food and drink.

Meanwhile workforce costs have also leapt 18%, insurance costs have increased by 31% following pandemic disruption and utility bills have risen 29%.

"It is unfortunately the case that when you see enormous cost increases of the kind we have felt in our sector, for the vast majority of businesses there is little else they can do other than pass these to consumers," said NTIA chief Michael Kill.

"Sadly, what this will mean is people's well-earned nights out being made more expensive, just when they are struggling with their own cost of living and trying to decide which monthly expenses they can do without."

The warning comes as customers face jumps in energy costs and food bills amid the continued cost of living crisis.

The NTIA said firms face a "perfect storm" in April.

Businesses are set to be hit by an increase in National Insurance contributions, a rise in the National Living Wage to £9.50 an hour, and reductions in pandemic support such as reduced food and soft drink VAT.

Queen lets Andrew go to service

PRINCE Andrew is set to appear alongside the Queen to attend a remembrance service for his father the Duke of Edinburgh.

The monarch, 95, who has returned to Windsor Castle to resume her duties, will appear alongside the Duke to attend a service for Prince Philip on March 29 at Westminster Abbey.

The Duke of Edinburgh – the nation's longest-serving consort – died aged 99 on April 9, just two months before he would have turned 100.

This news comes after it emerged that the Duke of York is set to meet lawyers representing Virginia Roberts in London on March 10 – nearly three weeks before the remembrance service – where he will testify under oath according to sources close to the royal.

Ms Roberts is suing Andrew in New York over claims she was trafficked by paedo Jeffrey Epstein and forced to have sex with the prince on three occasions when she was 17. Andrew vehemently denies the claims.

£109m lottery winner found

A CLAIM has been staked for the £109.9m jackpot won by a single UK ticket-holder in last Friday's EuroMillions draw.

The winning numbers were 03, 25, 38, 43, 49 while the Lucky Stars were 03 and 07.

A single UK player matched all five EuroMillions numbers as well as the two Lucky Stars to scoop the top prize.

Once the ticket has been validated and paid, the ticket-holder will then decide whether or not to go public and share their news.

Camelot's Andy Carter, said: "It's an amazing EuroMillions jackpot win which has propelled the lucky winner into the list of the top 10 biggest National Lottery winners ever."

Oil giant BP make £9.5BILLION in profits as working Brits face ruin

By COLIN HURST

the red – its biggest ever annual loss.

Oil and gas prices have since rebounded as economies worldwide reopened following the early stages of the COVID pandemic.

But the results will also intensify pressure on oil firms as they reap mammoth profit hauls while households and businesses are struggling due to soaring inflation.

Calls are growing for a windfall tax on energy giants, with Labour MPs arguing that while households are paying through their teeth for gas – energy bills are set to spike more than 50% in April – the companies which extract that gas are reporting massive profits.

Spike

Supporters of the tax believe some of this money should be reclaimed to help struggling households cope with the rise.

Another power giant – Shell – was in the firing line last week as it reported a hefty spike in profits on the same day as Ofgem announced a near £700 rise in the energy price cap.

Alongside its results, BP also announced plans to boost its spending on low-carbon and renewable energy.

Chief executive Bernard Looney said: "2021 shows BP doing what we said we would – performing while transforming.

"We've strengthened the balance sheet and grown returns, we're delivering distributions to shareholders with $4.15bn of buybacks announced and the dividend increased, and we're investing for the future."

BORIS STILL NOT SORRY FOR SLUR

BORIS Johnson is resisting calls to apologise for the Jimmy Savile smear he levelled at Sir Keir Starmer after cops had to rescue the Labour leader from a mob.

Sir Keir was bundled into a police car near Parliament as he faced baseless allegations of "protecting paedophiles" from protesters shouting about Savile.

At least six Tories, including a former Cabinet minister, joined MPs from across the political spectrum in linking the harassment to the claim Mr Johnson made under pressure over the partygate scandal.

However, technology minister Chris Philp said Mr Johnson could not be held responsible for the "unacceptable" actions of the demonstrators.

They did mention Jimmy Savile. They also mentioned Julian Assange, they mentioned COVID, they also mentioned the opposition more generally," he said.

"I don't think you can point to what the Prime Minister said as the cause of that. You can't blame him for a mob clearly behaving in a totally unacceptable way."

"You certainly can't say what he said in any way prompted, provoked or justified the harassment and intimidation we saw."

PEPPA PIG IS MADE INTO SAUSAGES!

By BLAKE LEIGH news@sundaysport.co.uk

TOTS have been left in tears after cartoon oinker Peppa Pig was mashed up and made into SAUSAGES!

Vegan campaigner Pamela Nova has created a cartoon where famed children's character Peppa is sent to the abattoir.

The gruesome and harrowing story is Pamela's way of raising awareness of the suffering faced by animals in the meat production industry, says the anti-meat campaigner.

In the story, plucky little Peppa goes on a trip and readers are asked to guess where they think the animated walking bacon sandwich could be going.

It turns out that Peppa was headed to a slaughterhouse on the outskirts of Bristol.

Screams

"It's interesting how in children's stories about animals they are all cute and lovely when the reality of a pig's life is one of mutilation," Pamela said.

"Peppa Pig is one part of the propaganda of the dominant culture."

Ms Nova claimed on a previous visit to an abattoir that she could hear the blood-curdling screams of pigs.

As a campaigner with the group 'Animal Save' which originated in Canada, she has now been working on setting up her own groups and campaigns. Peppa Pig had been involved in controversy after Prime Minister Boris Johnson raised a visit to Peppa Pig World during a chaotic speech to the CBI late last year.

FATTIES GET WONDER DRUG TO FIGHT FLAB

THOUSANDS of tubsters will be able to get a fat-busting wonder drug on the NHS after a watchdog approved its use.

The National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (Nice) said people taking the weekly injections saw their weight drop by 12% on average after 68 weeks.

Nice has issued draft guidance recommending semaglutide (also known as Wegovy and made by Novo Nordisk) for adults with at least one weight-related condition and a body mass index (BMI) of at least 35 which is considered obese by the NHS.

In some cases, those with a BMI of 30 may be able to access the drug, which is given via a pen injector.

Patients inject themselves with semaglutide, which suppresses the appetite through mimicking the hormone glucagon-like peptide-1 (GLP-1) that is released after eating.

This makes people feel full, meaning they eat less and lose weight.

Young Britons think Salman is a bit fishy!

ALMOST third of young Britons think Salman Rushdie is a fish dish and not a prize-winning author.

A total of 29 per cent of 25 to 34-year-olds insisted they have tucked into Rushdie (above), the writer against whom Iran issued a 'fatwa' death threat in the 1980s.

Meanwhile, nearly 20 per cent thought prawn cocktail contains alcohol. And 30 per cent of adults believed sushi is a fish.

Almost half did not know a mullet is a fish as well as a hairstyle, according to the poll of 2,000 by fishmonger Wright Brothers.

A fifth of millennials worry about wading in British waters – for fear they'll encounter great white sharks, which prefer the tropics of Australia and South Africa.

Wright Brothers co-founder Robin Hancock said: "Clearly, Brits struggle to identify fish fact from fiction."

Dozens die in lightning strike

DOZENS of people died after a bolt of lightning struck a power cable, causing it to snap and fall on houses and a market.

The tragedy happened outside of Kinshasa in the Democratic Republic of Congo. Twenty-six people died, and all but two of the victims were women. Two others were injured.

Architects said the accident could have been avoided by not building under high-voltage electricity lines.

EROTIC FREEDOM:
Yasmeena loves her chosen lifestyle

Afghanistan's top PORN STAR defies bearded headbangers...

F*K YOU, TALIBAN!

AFGHANISTAN'S top porn star doesn't scare easily.

Yasmeena Ali, 28, says she feels empowered by her kinky occupation... despite her own FATHER purportedly trying to have her killed over it and her homeland's Taliban rulers taking a very dim view of porn.

The porn star opened up about the risks she's taken to pursue sex work after leaving behind her religion and family.

But for women like her, who have denounced sexually oppressed cultures to reclaim their bodies, the work is worth it for both the erotic freedom and the money. "I was surprised when I first started working in this industry with how well women are paid compared to their male co-stars," Yasmeena said.

Oppressive

"A lot of times women in other industries with higher qualifications and experiences do not get the same pay cheque or respect as their male colleagues."

Yasmeena now clocks over nine million video views on Pornhub. But it hasn't all been smooth sailing for the former Muslim, who now resides in Eastern Europe.

From speaking out about the Taliban to cutting off ties with her family, the brunette beauty revealed the brave meaning behind her X-rated scenes.

Yasmeena was born in Kabul in 1993. After years spent living under oppressive Taliban rule, she moved to Britain with her family in the early 2000s.

Her father was "granted asylum in the UK for providing British and US troops with fighting services during fighting in the Middle East".

But Yasmeena didn't find life in England any easier and felt suffocated growing up in a strict Muslim household.

The teenager "escaped" and tied the knot with Jewish photographer David Cohen.

She renounced her religion, "unlocked" her sexual side and embarked on a kinky career as an adult actress.

In 2020, Yasmeena was thrust into the headlines after her father and his cousin were arrested for an alleged plot to have her killed because she had "disgraced the family" by getting into porn.

Dad Mohammed Patman and cousin Darya Khan Safi were also said to be outraged that she married a Jew.

The sultry star says she believes the Taliban's hypocritical members are secret porn lovers and, in some cases, not-so-secret.

A "considerable" cache of porn was found on the computers of al-Qaeda leader Osama bin Laden after his death in 2011.

But the erotic entertainer says the Taliban aren't the only Afghans who have a problem with her occupation.

"They don't want Afghanistan to be known for porn," she said of Afghans.

"They think they own my body and I have no right to show it."

Carr 'has right' to tell tasteless Holocaust joke

THE comedian behind the comedy political reporter Jonathan Pie said he will 'vehemently defend' Jimmy Carr's right to tell a joke about the Roma Genocide in the Holocaust.

Carr (above) has come under fire after a joke in his new comedy special His Dark Material divided opinion.

In the show, Carr tells a joke about the Holocaust and points out that Roma Gypsies were victims of the atrocities as well as Jews, stating that "nobody wants to talk about the positives".

Comedian Tom Walker, best known for his work under the moniker Jonathan Pie, told LBC: "You have to look at two things: context and intent."

And he asked: "Are we seriously saying that Jimmy Carr actually condones the mass murder of Gypsies?", before making the case that the comedian doesn't in fact think this way. "Is it a tasteless joke? Yes. Is it a joke I found funny? No."

"But I would vehemently defend his right to tell that joke."

Palace intruder lucky not to be killed by cops

A MAN who scaled a Buckingham Palace fence has been spared jail by a judge who told him he was lucky not to have been killed by police.

Cameron Kalani, 44, entered the Royal Mews, which houses the royal family's horses, in the early hours of May 10 last year.

He was caught with a 20cm kitchen knife and cocaine in his bag when he was arrested after climbing back into Buckingham Palace Road. Kalani was handed a 24-week prison sentence, suspended for 12 months, at Westminster Magistrates' Court after previously pleading guilty to trespassing on a protected site, possession of a bladed article and possession of a wrap of cocaine.

CAT OR TWAT?
James Corden in the movie musical Cats.

By GARY DORAN gary@sundaysport.co.uk

ONCE upon a time, a student who decided they were a CAT would be told to lay off the strong ale in the union bar and maybe sent to the on-campus nut doctor...

But this is 2022 and unhinged undergrads who've turned pussy are to be given special treatment by duns.

Staff members at the University of Bristol have been given guidance on gender identity and neopronouns, including 'catgender'.

The uni says in its 'using pronouns at work' document staff should declare their pronouns when meeting students for the first time.

They should put their own preferred pronouns in email signatures to support trans and non-binary students and normalise the practice for all.

Its guidance links to a web page that says some people may identify as pussy cats and others could use 'emojiself pronouns', which some ridiculed online.

Emojiself

It says that for people who are trans and non-binary, use of the correct pronouns is important as they will have had a difficult journey.

In the list of examples is 'Emojiself' pronouns, which is described as "nounself pronouns, which are pronouns that, instead of using letters, utilize emojis".

"These pronouns are not intended to be pronounced out loud and are intended for online communication."

The list also discusses how nounself pronouns are used by individuals who are 'xenic' – whose gender is not aligned to "Western human binary of gender alignments".

The web page states as an example: "Someone who is catgender may use nya or nyan pronouns."

That means 'meow' in Japanese.

'Catgender' is "feeling an extremely strong connection to cats or felines, either strongly identifying with them or wanting to incorporate them into their gender to better understand their identity".

Some people question how someone could identify as 'catgender' and how an emoji could be considered a gender.

The Free Speech Union – a group that claims to counter the "digital outrage mob" – wrote on Twitter: "We will support any member of ours at Bristol Uni who refuses to obey this guidance to use 'cat pronouns' to refer to 'catgender' students."

Fewer traffic jams during pandemic

ROAD congestion during traditional peak travel times in 2021 was more than a third lighter than pre-pandemic levels, according to new research.

Analysis of 25 UK towns and cities by location technology firm TomTom found that traffic jams in the morning and evening rush hours last year eased by 35% compared with 2019.

This was led by reductions in Reading (53%), Southampton (52%), Coventry (45%), Stoke-on-Trent (43%) and Cardiff (40%).

TomTom attributed the decline in congestion to the impact of COVID and the growth in online shopping.

Hey bro, kill my ex-wife and you get my motorbike

A MAN allegedly gave his brother his motorbike as payment for a "hit" on his ex-wife.

Jason Starr paid Darin Starr with a 2016 Triumph motorcycle and additional money to kill Sara Starr, according to an indictment unsealed in Montgomery, Alabama, federal Court.

The federal grand jury indicted Jason Starr and Darin Starr with use of interstate commerce facilities in the commission of a murder-for-hire.

Sara Starr was killed outside her home in Coffee County, Alabama, on November 27, 2017.

She was a fourth-grade teacher at Harrand Creek Elementary School and also a mother to two sets of twins.

Darin Starr was taken into custody after the FBI shared a "Wanted" poster on Twitter on February 2.

The FBI was offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of Darin Starr.

Truck ram man killed pal after fight over mayo

A MAN was sentenced to life behind bars for the murder of a friend he repeatedly ran over with a pickup truck after a fight about MAYONNAISE.

Kristoffer Erlbacher, 29, used his truck to ram Caleb Solberg, 30, outside a cafe in Pisgah, Iowa.

Erlbacher (above) drove away, then came back and ran over Solberg twice more.

The two had been out drinking at a bar in nearby Moorhead, but when Erlbacher spread mayo on Solberg's food it sparked a bar fight.

Erlbacher called Solberg's half-brother, Craig Pryor, on the way to the cafe and threatened to shoot Solberg.

Pryor came to Dave's Old Home in Pisgah and Erlbacher rammed his truck into Pryor's, then rammed Solberg.

"Erlbacher came back to strike Solberg a second time," District Court Judge Greg Steensland wrote in the verdict.

"To be sure he had completed the job, Erlbacher drove his truck up and over Solberg one last time."

Pandemic: Sex with pals replaces one-night stands

ROMPING with pals has replaced one-night stands as COVID makes so-called "friends with benefits" more popular.

There has been a dramatic fall in singletons looking for one-off sex since the pandemic hit, researchers say.

But "situationship" romps, where friends have sex without the romantic commitment, are more common, the National Survey of Sexual Attitudes and Lifestyle found.

Professor Kirstin Mitchell, co-leader of the study, said: "COVID-19 restrictions led to significant shifts in sexual repertoires, frequency and satisfaction, mostly for those not cohabiting and young people."

The study also found two thirds of people had sex with someone in their support bubble during the lockdowns.

LOVELY Lucy Briggs says she enjoys dressing up in sexy lingerie, and then hiding it under a pair of jeans and a baggy old jumper.

The 30E beauty, from Loughton in Essex, said it's too cold in winter to be wearing short skirts and low cut tops all the time.

But she still wants to be sexy so she hides her hot skimples under winter woollies.

She said: "It means I can stay sexy, even though it's brass monkeys out."

"I like the fact that no-one knows just how sexy I am being underneath my baggy jumper and jeans."

"Sometimes I will let my fella know by stripping and sending him a few sexy selfies!"

"He'll be round like a shot, and that's another way to keep warm when the weather's like it is right now!"

BIG MAC LAST MEAL ... THEN SHE CHOPPED HIM TO BITS WITH AXE

EAT AND THEN DIE:
Meeks had plan for victim

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN took a 20-year-old man for a Big Mac "last meal" before gunning him down.

The body of Dylan Whetzel was then dismembered and discarded in black trash bags.

Bronwyn Meeks, 22, pleaded guilty to more than 30 criminal charges, including first-degree murder, murder by mob, abduction, and concealing and defiling a corpse.

Whetzel's remains were discovered concealed in four large black garbage bags in a wooded area of Spotsylvania, Virginia, in February last year.

Overdose

He had been shot in the head several times before his body was chopped up and placed in the bags.

Meeks was arrested soon after the body was discovered, along with two co-defendants, Dominic Samuels and Brennan Thomas, both 19.

In exchange for pleading guilty, Special Prosecutor David Sands requested that Judge Ricardo Rigual give Meeks a prison sentence of between 16 and 54 years.

Mr Sands said Meeks and Samuels

Victim stuffed in bin bags over drugs row were reportedly dating and also allegedly sold drugs together.

Whetzel had told Meeks to stop selling drugs to his friend, who had reportedly survived an overdose.

Meeks made plans to pick up Whetzel and pretend he would be accompanying her, Samuels and Thomas to a party.

The quartet first stopped at McDonald's to eat Big Macs. Meeks reportedly referred to the stop as Whetzel's "last meal" in text messages recovered by the authorities.

Meeks is then accused of driving to a remote area in Spotsylvania, where she and her co-defendants allegedly pulled Whetzel out of the car and shot him in the head several times.

Samuels and Thomas allegedly bought a Cobalt axe, which they used to chop up Whetzel's body.

Samuels and Thomas are scheduled to face a jury later this year.

Lilo woman floated on lake for two days

A WOMAN spent two days floating on a lilo in a lake in freezing weather before drifting to shore and being rescued.

The stranded lady was spotted screaming for help on train tracks near Lake Texoma, Oklahoma. Workers on a freight train stopped to help the woman, who identified herself only as Connie.

She said she had been floating for two days on the man-made reservoir after getting separated from a man.

She showed signs of hypothermia when she was found, her hands were cut and bleeding, and she struggled to walk.

She was taken to hospital for treatment.

EX-NAVY CAPTAIN TOOK 'FAT LEONARD' BRIBES

A FORMER Navy captain has pleaded guilty to bribery for accepting nearly £58,000 in luxury hotel rooms, dinners, alcohol-fuelled parties and HOOKERS from a defence contractor.

In his plea agreement, Donald Hornbeck, 61, admitted to accepting the gifts from Singapore-based Malaysian businessman Leonard Glenn Francis, nicknamed "Fat Leonard".

In exchange, Hornbeck shared confidential information with Francis and helped steer Seventh Fleet business to ports serviced by Francis's ship husbanding company that serviced US Navy ships in the Asia Pacific region.

Authorities say Francis overbilled the Navy over the years by more than £25million.

According to the Department of Justice, Francis picked up the bill for Hornbeck in Tokyo, Singapore, Hong Kong, Japan and Bangkok, treating him to luxury hotels, dinners and a party including sex workers.

I GUTTED MY SISTER LIKE A FISH...

DEVOTED Paul and Julie Rogers were the perfect couple – intelligent, funny, deeply in love and mum and dad to three wonderful children. There was just one problem – Julie was unlucky enough to count psychotic Edward Wycoll as her brother. And when Wycoll was excluded from a family party, he took his revenge by stabbing and bludgeoning Julie and Paul to death as their terrified children hid...

WHEN Edward Wycoll stood trial for his horrific crimes in 2009, he didn't attempt to deny what he'd done.

Instead, this 6ft 5in brute opted to defend himself – and even tried to argue that he had every right to slaughter his own sister and her deeply spiritual husband.

Wycoll had the gall to cross-examine the Rogers' grieving kids as they were forced to take the stand to describe the awful events that unfolded in January 2006 at their home in El Cerrito, California.

Unhinged Wycoll moaned he'd been disappointed when the Rogers hadn't invited him to family get-togethers around Christmas and Thanksgiving.

He moaned: "I still hate them a little. When someone does that, they hate you. They're out to destroy you."

"They owed me a life. This has ruined my life – and Julie and Paul owe me for that."

In a poem, he wrote of Julie: "My sister, I gutted her like a fish."

Wycoll was proud of that fact.

Oddly, he also tried to reason with a jury by telling them that the Rogers', who loved the environment, were too "liberal" and "easy" with their children Eric, then 17, Alexander, 15, and Laurel, 12.

After killing Paul, 48, and Julie, 47 – both lawyers and university lecturers – Wycoll genuinely believed he'd be able to adopt their kids as his own and give them a better life.

Instead, he made the three siblings orphans.

Details of their father's demise made a courtroom weep.

Eric discovered his father lying face down with a knife in his back.

As he held him, his dying father managed to say the words, "I love you, no matter what."

Through his tears, Eric replied, "I love you too, Papa."

Stabbing

Then Paul died in his son's arms.

When Wycoll was eventually sentenced to death in 2009, there was to be no dignified acceptance of his fate.

Instead, he shouted, "Heeeere's Edward!" – aping Jack Nicholson in horror film The Shining – before stabbing a bowl in front of him with a pen while laughing.

Judge John Kennedy told him: "I have no doubt that Paul and Julie Rogers weren't perfect people, because none of us are."

"But you had no right to end their lives and take them away from their children."

"Your reasons for the murders are a series of petty slights, perceived transgressions and imagined insults."

"You pose a severe danger to society and have shown you are capable of justifying in your own mind the murder of anyone, from family members to strangers."

As they grew up in Sacramento, Edward and Julie Wycoll could not have been more different.

While Julie excelled at school, Edward suffered with attention deficit disorder. He didn't appear to develop at an emotional or mental level beyond the age of nine.

Julie graduated from college and went to the University of California, where she met Paul. The couple married in 1979.

Wycoll, meanwhile, stayed at home with his mother and father and got a job as a trucker. Edward – known to friends and family as Ted – was also a compulsive bed-wetter until the age of 24.

The Rogers became upstanding pillars of the local community, devoting time to charity and the local community.

They were enthusiastic environmentalists who loved to take their children backpacking in the countryside.

And, despite Wycoll's claims, the Rogers had embraced him as a family member – even though their friends found him "irritating".

One, Cara Bowman, said: "Ted managed to kill the two people who loved and cared for him most in the world."

Wycoll's mum passed away, followed by his and Julie's father in 2005. Wycoll continued

MENTAL: Wycoll conducting his own defence at his murder trial living at the Citrus Heights family home.

For some reason he became convinced that Julie and Paul were trying to sell the property from underneath him.

Humiliation

This, combined with the party snubs, was enough to send him over the edge.

A plan formed in his mind to simply murder his sister and her husband and end the perceived humiliation.

The operation was planned with military precision. Wycoll had laser eye surgery to better see his prey and bought night vision goggles so he could pull off a pitch-black ambush.

Wearing dark clothes and a motorcycle helmet, he smashed a window on the Rogers' property and crept in while they slept.

On the night of the murders, Paul had gone into his daughter's bedroom and kissed her on the cheek while she was talking on the phone.

After she went to bed, her father knocked on her bedroom door and told her goodnight. She smiled and pretended to be asleep.

Mum Julie had been on the sofa, reading and drinking tea. She tucked

SICK: Edward Wycoff tried to convince a jury he'd done his orphaned niece and nephews a big favour by murdering their beloved parents

VILE KILLER HAD SEX WITH DEAD WOMAN'S BODY

Monster

filmed sick act on his phone

VICTIM: Mirsha

A REGISTERED sex beast pleaded guilty to killing two women and having sex with one of their bodies, prosecutors said.

Dennis Lane, 42, entered the plea for fatally shooting Mirsha Victor, 23, in his Stockbridge, Georgia, home last July and then having sex with his co-worker's dead body before disposing of it, District Attorney Darius Pattillo said.

He is also accused of shooting Conteshia McCoy, 19, last year between mid-February and early April before concealing her body, authorities said.

"Mr Lane, you forfeited your right to live in a civilised society," Judge Brian Amero told the monster after his guilty plea to two counts of murder, necrophilia and other charges.

Depravity

He sentenced Lane to two consecutive life sentences without the possibility of parole.

"Crimes committed by this individual were heartless and vile," the district attorney said.

"I can't comprehend this level of depravity and wickedness."

Lane was charged with necrophilia after graphic video footage was found on his mobile phone.

Some months earlier, Lane had also dumped Conteshia's body in the same area where he left Mirsha.

Cleounsee Fisher, 41, and Roni Preckwinkle, 40, still face charges of murder and other counts, Pattillo said.

Lane, a registered sex offender, served 17 years in prison before moving to Georgia.

The convicted sexual predator was released on parole in May 2019 after being convicted of raping a girl in Illinois.

He was 19 at the time of the attack, records show.

VICTIMS: Julie and Paul never stood a chance her daughter into bed and kissed her goodnight.

Their tranquility was shattered in the most heinous way imaginable.

It was young Eric who heard the sound of breaking glass, ushering his sister into his bedroom to hide while he dialled 911. Thankfully, their brother Alexander was away from home that fateful night.

Eric heard terrifying screams as Wycoff set about his parents with his weapons of choice – a hunting knife and a wheelbarrow handle.

Eric found his dad in an "enormous pool of blood" in the master bedroom, Laurel by his side trying to stem the flow of blood around the blade embedded in his back using a towel.

Brutal

Julie had somehow managed to crawl into the yard, despite having been disembowelled and beaten to a pulp by her own brother.

She eventually made it to the hospital, but died from her brutal injuries later that day.

Wycoff, meanwhile, was arrested at a nearby hospital a few days later, having gone to A&E with what nurses there described as "suspicious wounds".

When his murder trial got under way in November 2009, it veered between farce and tragedy.

Brave Eric looked into the eyes of his own uncle as Wycoff attempted to justify what he'd done.

He told his teenage nephew: "Didn't you think it was strange that after my dad died everyone was invited over for Christmas but me?"

Then he told the jury: "The parents were raising their kids wrong. I think since they were eliminated, Eric has cleaned up his life."

Wycoff even had the gall to ask Eric: "How has your life been since all this happened?"

Eric, choking back tears, could only answer: "Incredibly difficult."

Smirking Wycoff was duly convicted of two counts of first-degree murder.

He faced either life in prison or the death penalty.

Showing much restraint and compassion, Eric actually petitioned the jury NOT to execute the man who'd mercilessly killed his mother and father.

He told his uncle: "I think you should get life without the possibility of parole.

"I think that the death penalty would be wrong.

"I think that you are mentally childish.

"I think you are very immature. I think that killing in hatred is something associated with my uncle and not my parents.

"I don't think we can teach people that killing is wrong by killing people."

What happened next made hearts sink and stomachs shrivel.

Callous Wycoff replied: "That proves I did a good job getting rid of his parents. It was the right thing to do. It helped a lot.

Lethal

"To go against popular opinion like that shows Eric turned out to be quite a good person."

"I will have still won that free trip to Prisoneyland!"

When the courtroom failed to laugh at his "gag", Wycoff chuckled: "I can see this audience is comically challenged."

The jury had heard enough. They ordered Wycoff, now 50, to die by lethal injection. What we're left with is three parentless children struggling to come to terms with what has happened to their family.

Laurel, now 22, said at the time: "I miss everything about them. Even things that would annoy me, I now miss."

"My dad was one of the most intelligent and compassionate people I've ever known."

"He was generous, calm, sincere, caring and open-minded."

"Mum was also very compassionate and very intelligent. She thought a lot. She was very creative, really kind and thoughtful."

"I remember my Dad on his computer eating chips. I remember the way his moustache moved when he smiled.

I still imagine Mum picking me up from school and calling me funny names."

"I've developed a cynical view of the world. It's hard for me to trust people. I'm not happy. I don't want to wear happy colours."

Wycoff, meanwhile, is as deluded as ever.

Vengeful

As he rots in his cell, he admitted one of his big disappointments is that no-one asked for his autograph at his trial.

In final act of spite, he says he hopes to be reincarnated as a grandson of one of the Rogers' children "so one day, if they have a grandson that is angry and vengeful, it might just be me..."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

The paying public are screwed...
AGAIN!

THE cost of buying your own house is just bonkers.

And, increasingly so, how much it costs to keep the home running, too.

We know that unless we have about thirty grand to put down as a deposit, you can kiss goodbye to becoming a homeowner.

And unless you've got a secret stash of cash hidden behind the immersion heater (which is now permanently off), then you won't be able to afford any hot water either.

Hidden house wealth continues to make too many people extremely financially comfortable on paper.

And almost no one would ever turn their nose up at that.

Especially when the kids are looking between you and their smart watches, tapping the screen not to check their emails but the too-slow countdown to your death and their inheritance.

Idiots

But energy bills are a whole different thing.

We're told that as the world "emerges" from the pandemic, demand for energy is "recovering" to pre-COVID levels, so hence the higher bills.

But my demand for home energy didn't go down during these past two wilderness years.

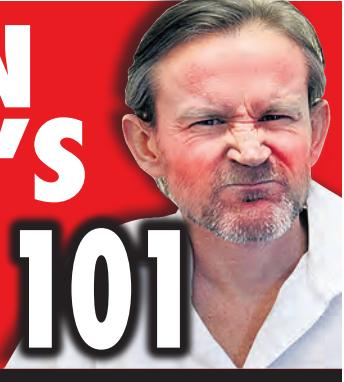

If anything, my bills soared, because not only was I at home all the time using more gas and electricity, so was the missus and the grown-up kids.

So where is this "extra" demand, as it keeps being described, coming from?

If it's more people back on the road, surely the oil distilleries had plenty in storage to easily cope?

(Turns out they did, although that didn't stop some idiots joining panic-buying queues at garage forecourts.)

The same, surely, for airline carriers, who have no doubt had a terrible time with their planes grounded.

But how on earth is that the general public's fault?

We were told, nay, ORDERED, not to travel unless absolutely necessary and unless we were a celebrity, a royal or a politician, we mostly fell into line.

If we were coping with energy supplies before the pandemic, and during the pandemic, why the hell is it any different now?

We know a good 20% of our bills are to pay for the government's insane "net zero" target for carbon emissions, in a sly tax loaded onto our bills to pay for grants to erect solar panels and wind turbines.

But again, that's not our fault.

Few of us ever asked for them but these schemes were just foisted on us anyway, without an option to protest.

When there's a smell of fish in the air, the general advice is always "follow the money" to find out who's really benefitting, because it definitely isn't us.

And it's not too hard in this case to realise the public are yet again being mugged in favour of big business, who apparently didn't have the right insurance cover for if and when they ran into difficulties.

Remember those years of austerity that kicked in after the banks fed up even though we, as individuals, did not?

Here we go again...

Preacher: Burn books to get rid of Harry Potter

A CHURCH leader who fears "witchcraft" has befallen his church claimed God "directed" him to lead a book burning event to rid the world of "Harry Potter," "Twilight" and other best-selling fantasy books.

He also invited his congregation to destroy "tarot cards, Ouija boards, healing crystals, idol statues, spell books and everything else tied to the occult".

Pastor Greg Locke, of the Global Vision Bible Church in Mt. Juliet, near Nashville, Tennessee, began his sermon by announcing he had received a missive from God to skip Holy Communion and instead hold a book burning event for his followers.

"We're not going to prostitute communion by letting some witch curse up this house," the Pentecostal preacher said.

"We have a burn permit, but even without one a church has a religious right to burn occultic materials that they deem are a threat to their religious rights and freedoms and belief system."

Cop 'groped' woman judge at hotel bar

A TOP cop is accused of groping a prominent female judge at an annual law enforcement conference.

Sheriff Kristopher Coody has been charged with sexual battery after he allegedly fondled the judge at a hotel bar at the Renaissance Waverly Atlanta in Cobb County, during the Georgia Sheriff's Association winter meeting.

Police said Coody "did place his hand" on the victim's body parts without her consent, according to the arrest warrant.

Coody has not been arrested as he is currently outside the state on a church mission trip.

"He will meet with the appropriate authorities as soon as he returns," the Bleckley Sheriff's Office said in a statement.

TRAINEE SOCIAL WORKER SHAGGED TROUBLED TEEN

Love Island
Molly gives us a peek!

SHE'S been flaunting the results of her recent boob job, which saw her go from a size 32B to a 32C.

And Molly Smith, 27, looked incredible as she put on an eye-popping display in sexy lingerie on her Instagram account.

The former Love Island contestant even managed to give fans a hint of nip as she wore a see-thru bra.

One onlooker said: "I have absolutely no idea who this woman is but I'd pay upwards of twenty quid to watch her put a lolly up her bumhole."

RAPE CHARGE:
Horny Hall and (below)
children's centre

A TRAINEE social worker faces years in jail after shagging a troubled teen she was supposed to be looking after.

Horny Nicole Hall, 29, was working as an intern with a University of Alabama children's programme when she coaxed the lad's cock to a thundering erection and demanded he thrust it into her gaping, hairy minge.

A Tuscaloosa County grand jury indicted Hall on charges of second-degree rape and use of position for personal gain.

Court records state Hall was a University of Alabama grad student interning at Brewer-Porch Children's Center, which is under UA's College of Community Health.

Exposed

According to the programme's website, it is a "safe, nurturing place for children and adolescents with special needs, where they gain skills needed to learn and grow".

It has programmes for adolescents and teens with behavioural issues.

The indictment states Hall engaged in sexual intercourse with the victim, a 15-year-old boy who attended Brewer-Porch.

It's alleged that Hall fell for the lad and persuaded him to join her in one-to-one "mentoring" sessions, during which she exposed her breasts and private parts.

She is also said to have fished the lad's penis out of his pants and performed oral sex on him.

Officials say she then lay back on a table, spread her legs and parted her sodden vagina while flicking her clitoris with her finger.

Hall was released on bail from jail on the same day of her arrest.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

MY girlfriend always wears stockings and suspenders, but her best feature is probably her 34GG breasts. She gives the best tit-wank a man can get.

When I met her mum, I could tell where she got her fantastic norts from.

After a meal at their house recently, the dad pissed off down the boozers and we settled down to watch some telly. But all the time I was staring at the mum's knockers, imagining getting a tit-wank from her.

My girl went to bed and I stayed to watch the end of the movie. But as soon as she'd left, I made a move on her mum. She responded by unbuttoning her blouse and gripping my cock between her giant hooters. I was well away and just about to cream on her norts when her hubby walked in.

I was chased out of the house and now my girlfriend won't talk to me. What should I do?

J.D., Merseyside

Ashleigh says...
CHALK it up to experience.

Dear Ashleigh,

MY girlfriend loves watching me having sex with other women – usually her mates – and she has a string of peachy pals that any red-blooded male would love to get his hands on.

Take the other week, for example. She told me she would be inviting Natasha round for dinner on the Saturday night and I should be ready for some fun.

Our guest arrived at 7pm and, after a delicious supper, I was soon conkers-deep in Natasha's lovely clunge.

My missus always watches for a bit and then joins in. This time was no different. She climbed onto the bed and was soon licking her mate's fanny and sucking my cock.

It was brilliant, but I'm thinking of marrying her and wonder if our relationship is strong enough to survive because she now wants to go with other men.

What should I do?

B.K., Lancashire

Ashleigh says...
BE careful. It could end in disaster.

Shoe shop shag show

Dear Ashleigh,

I WORK in a shoe shop and one day a week the manager leaves me in charge.

Recently I was about to close at the end of the day when a smart woman came in. She was about 35, tall and slim.

She asked me about a pair of shoes on display in the window, so I invited her to take a seat while I went to fetch them.

They were a pair of red, strappy sandals and when I got back she'd already slipped off her shoes to reveal her pretty toes set off with scarlet nail polish.

She wasn't wearing tights or stockings and as I lifted her foot to try on the sandal I couldn't help but admire her long, tanned legs.

But I hesitated slightly and she caught me looking at them.

She smiled and slowly parted her thighs, to reveal she wasn't wearing panties!

At her suggestion, I locked up the shop while she slipped off her skirt, bent over a chair and let me bang her till she squealed.

Now she calls in every week when the boss is away. I love it, of course, but I'm worried I might get sacked if the boss finds out.

What do you think?

F.J., Bucks

Ashleigh says...

TAKE her home and try her on for size there.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Secret threesomes are hole lot of joy for me!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M 32, married and hide a saucy secret from my hubby – I enjoy threesomes with two men I work with.

Our sessions are on Tuesdays and Thursdays, when my hubby thinks I'm at the bingo.

Instead, I go round to my work pal's house where the two of them are ready and waiting.

The sex is always out of this world, but the other week was the best one yet.

I went upstairs and stripped off before diving under the duvet. After a couple of minutes they came in with a bottle of wine and I undressed each one in turn.

Sucking

I enjoy being licked out and, though one of my lovers is pretty good at it, the other is sensational.

And he soon got going on my love-bud with his expert tongue.

As I lay sucking on one guy's manhood, his pal was like a man possessed as he lapped away at my aching pussy.

After I reached a shuddering climax I got on all fours for one of them to enter me from behind for some frantic doggy-style humping while I sucked on the other one's hard dick.

One of the lusty lads thrust into me as I grabbed the other's cock and furiously wanked him off until he spilled his hot cream over my face and tits.

But the one who was inside me was like a stallion – I could feel the sweat dripping off his naked body onto my arse as he built up an incredible rhythm.

Several thrusts later I was squealing with delight as I reached yet another shuddering orgasm.

We lay in each other's arms stroking each other for a while to get our breath back.

And after about 20 minutes one of the chaps climbed on top of me and slipped his prick into me for some missionary-style action.

The other lay playing with himself until he, too, was rock-hard again.

Then the three of us managed to position ourselves so that I could take the second guy in my bumhole at the same time as his pal was still shagging my dripping wet pussy.

The feeling of having both guys inside me – in different holes – filled me with rapture and I had the most amazing, long and intense orgasm ever.

But last weekend my husband came back from the pub and hit me with some devastating news.

He said that one of his pals had told him I'd been cheating on him with the two men from my workplace.

I feel deeply ashamed that I've taken things so far and that I've upset my husband.

Any advice for me?

HJ, north London

Ashleigh says...

SEE if you can make things up with your hubby. Cook him something nice, then suck him dry.

Dear Ashleigh,

I AM a 20-year-old secretary in a legal firm and my 35-year-old boss has taken a shine to me.

He has always been extremely nice to me and sometimes I have got embarrassed when he praised me in front of other colleagues.

But the other month he came clean about the reasons why and told me he fancied me rotten.

And he promised me a promotion if I slept with him.

So I did – because I really need the extra money.

The first time he had me was over his desk. He took off my thong, licked me out and then f*ed me... hard.

We now have sex up to five times a week and I have good reason to enjoy it.

I have been promoted – twice – and have a company car.

He is very attractive with an athletic body and colleagues tell me he is divorced and unattached.

The problem is that I prefer guys my own age and I have a steady boyfriend.

Should I continue to sleep with him?

BS, Birmingham

she told me to bend her over and slam her hard from behind.

About half-an-hour later my mate walked in on us – still banging away in the sitting room.

The old bird grabbed my wet cock and told me to carry on while she beckoned my pal over to join us!

Before long we were spit-roasting her as she screamed in ecstasy and begged for more.

We didn't last long as she was such a good shag and her face ended up covered, like a bukkake scene.

She gave us discount on the room and a free breakfast, but me and my mate have birds back home and feel guilty about boning her.

Please help!

SH, Stockport

Ashleigh says...

WHAT happens "on tour" should stay "on tour". So remind your mate to keep his mouth shut!

Ashleigh says...

IF you are comfortable with the situation, then carry on. If you feel guilty about your fella, then stop.

If you are ever in the fortunate position to hear Venera Isabella tell you to close your eyes...you will not be disappointed.

The busty 34GG babe has revealed how she once surprised her blindfolded boyfriend with a wild threesome with a hot girl!

Italian-born Venera who now lives in Colchester, Essex, organised the kinky session for his birthday.

The sexy stunner said: "I told my boyfriend I had a special surprise present for him and got him to put on a blindfold and sit on a chair in the bedroom.

"I had my friend waiting in the next door bedroom.

"Then I teased him with kisses all over until I took him in my mouth and gave him an amazing blowjob.

"After a while I got my friend to sneak quietly into the room and join us.

"That was quite a night!"

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallie and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDS at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Leigh as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

JUICY Jemma Henley LOVES her pink panties!

The 30G cracker from Lewisham in south London explained: "I know a lot of girls think that black is the sexiest colour for undies but I love pink."

"I read somewhere that pink panties are worn by women who are sweet and innocent."

"Well, I'm not innocent and can show any man that girls in pink panties can be VERY raunchy."

"I got into pink panties quite by mistake, as it happens."

"I was washing some white smalls – I also like crisp, white panties – and left in a red rag I use to wipe up."

"My smalls all came out pink and I was hooked from there!"

England get Colli wobbles for Windies

CRICKET By GEOFFREY BOTHAM

PAUL Collingwood says he's excited to be leading England for their Test series against the West Indies.

The former Three Lions all-rounder has stepped up after Chris Silverwood was sacked as head coach following the Ashes cock-up.

Collingwood will be in charge for next month's three Test tour after filling the same role during the T20 series in Barbados last month.

Marcus Trescothick and Richard Dawson will be drafted into the backroom team on the back of leading the under-19s to the World Cup final.

Joe Root will still skipper the side despite his troubles down under.

Collingwood said: "I am genuinely excited to be leading the Test team for the tour of the Caribbean.

"I can't wait to get started."

Accolade

"Having a challenging Test series against the West Indies straight off the back of the Ashes disappointment gives us a chance from now to reset and rebuild."

"Playing Test matches for England is the highest accolade in the game."

"My objective is to give players clarity, direction and encouragement for them to start building something special."

"I have spoken to Joe Root and Ben Stokes, and both are excited and passionate to take the team forward in this new cycle.

STILL SKIPPER: Joe Root

"Although they know it won't be easy, they have the desire and bravery to do things differently to ensure the team can prosper."

"We have an opportunity to get back on track."

One man who is focused on the red-ball game is Ben Stokes.

The all-rounder has snubbed a fortune in the IPL to get ready for the Tests coming this summer.

He said: "The Test team is where it is at for me right now and I want to give as much of my time and energy to that as possible."

"I think the Test side will benefit more from me playing a number of County Championship matches this summer and getting myself as best prepared as possible for New Zealand and South Africa."

"Test cricket is absolutely my number one priority."

IT'S SO KUL TO BE AT SPURS!

New signing happy to land in north London

NEW Tottenham signing

Dejan Kulusevski says he can make himself a household name for Antonio Conte.

The Swedish winger came on deadline day from Juventus along with Rodrigo Bentancur.

Both players were not the kind of marquee signings the Tottenham manager and fans were hoping for.

Ammo

But Kulusevski says he has been mentored by Juventus legend Andrea Pirlo during his time in the black and white stripes.

And he believes he can bring that knowledge to the Premier League and be a major success.

He wants to supply the

By PAUL THOMAS

ammo for Harry Kane to fire into goals.

The 20-caps Sweden star said: "Pirlo is a fantastic coach and a fantastic guy."

"I spoke with him nearly every day and he always spoke to me a lot about how I should shape my body and how I can look out for passes without really showing the opposition where I am going to play the ball."

"And that is exactly what I hope will help me to help Harry even more in the future."

Kane is unbelievable. Yes, up there. What impressed me was his technique, the way he stopped the ball and the way he changed the whole pitch with his passes from both feet.

"It is amazing really. And I know that when he has the ball I have to run because he will find me."

Conte pressed the two new arrivals into FA Cup action against Brighton.

And he insists they are not just in London to see the sights and they will have an important part to play as Spurs fight for a top-four place.

Intensity

The Italian said: "It was important to breathe the atmosphere for the two new signings, for us, for Dejan Kulusevski and Rodrigo Bentancur."

"It was important to come in and to understand the intensity of this league. I repeat, two good players, two young players with talent. They can help us."

Rodrigo, despite his age, only 24 years old, has a lot of experience because he played 120 games for Juventus. Kulusevski, the same. I think they can help us."

"I'm pleased that I gave them the opportunity to come in and also breathe this fantastic atmosphere in our stadium."

"Our fans, the noise against Brighton was so intense that it was also very difficult to communicate with the players."

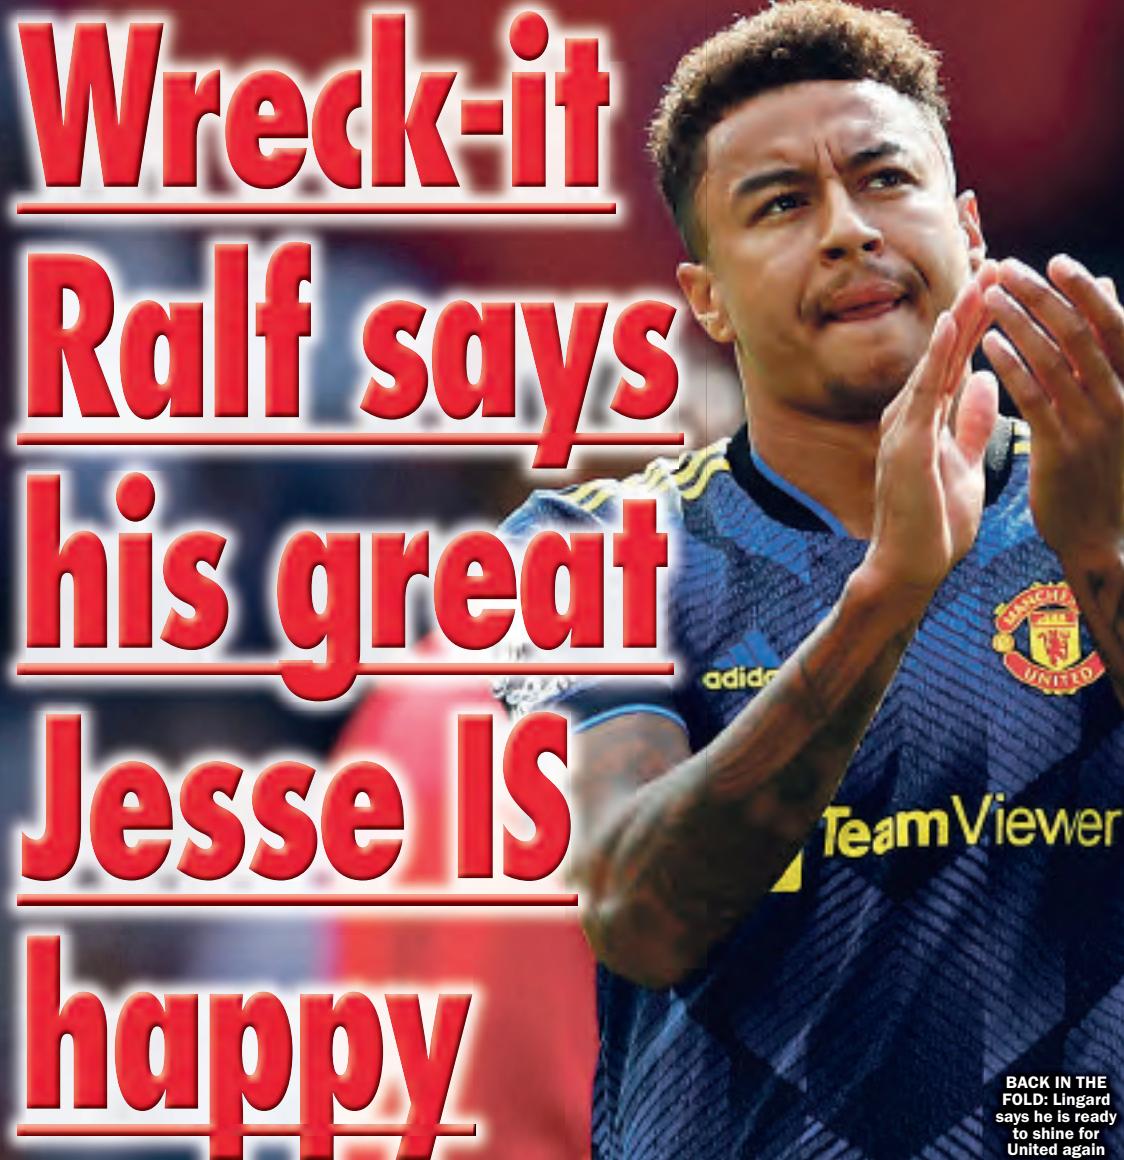

Kulusevski says he's even happy to go through Conte's punishing training sessions.

He added: "I love suffering! That's one thing about me, from when I was born."

"I love to work hard and I've already seen how they work at Spurs. It's incredible."

"Even after the game, we had a crazy training session! Different to Italy!"

LINGARD BACK IN RANGNICK'S SQUAD

By MARK NAYLOR

RALF RANGNICK INSISTS HE HAS NO PROBLEMS WITH JESSE LINGARD.

The Manchester United boss was all set to let the midfielder leave the club on loan this month.

It appeared as though he would be heading north-east to Newcastle for the final months of the campaign.

Lingard wanted the move so he could get some time on the pitch and enhance his chances of making England's World Cup squad for Qatar this winter.

But the move was blocked at the last minute when it became clear that Mason Greenwood wouldn't be available to play in the near future.

Headspace

Lingard was missing from the United squad that was knocked out of the FA Cup by Middlesbrough at Old Trafford.

At the time, Rangnick said the player needed some time off "to clear up his mind".

But Lingard insists that's a load of cobblers and replied on social media.

He said: "The club advised me to have time off due to personal reasons! But my headspace is clear and I'll always be professional when called upon and give 100 percent."

The 29-year-old was back in

UNITED BOSS PLAYS DOWN ROW

the United squad for last night's clash with Burnley in the Premier League.

And interim boss Rangnick insists everything is hunky dory between them.

He also brought back Edinson Cavani for the clash with the Clarets after he'd been missing.

Rangnick said: "Both are top professionals and both have been training well."

"With regard to Jesse, I have a very good relationship with him."

"He knows that I would've been willing to let him go, at least until the issue with Mason Greenwood came up. All the other things have been spoken about, Lingard mentioned personal issues. "But we have to look forward now."

"There are no problems whatsoever between myself and Jesse, and vice versa."

"I'm happy to have him in the squad."

It's the second time that Rangnick said a player didn't want to play since he took over at United.

He did the same with Antony Martial who also went on social media to speak against the gaffer.

The Frenchman said at the time: "I will never refuse to play a match for Man United."

"I have been here for seven seasons and I never disrespected and will never disrespect the club and the fans."

Rangnick is happy with the way United have been playing despite their shock defeat against Boro in the FA Cup.

He is still scratching his head to how they lost that match after creating so many golden chances.

Shots

The German said: "Apart from playing together as a team in defence and improving and developing our defence work together we invested some time in our offensive principles and it showed in the game against West Ham and Middlesbrough where we created numerous chances."

"I can't remember a game in the last couple of years where our team created so many chances, 30 shots on goal, in the end, it didn't lead to the result we wanted to get but we dominated the game in most parts and we did well in creating those chances."

BIG MONEY FLOP: Van De Beek has left for Everton

RED DEVILS WIN LEAGUE TITLE...FOR SPENDING

By ANDY MILLOM

MANCHESTER UNITED spent more money than any other club on the planet in the past ten seasons.

The Red Devils had a net spend of almost ONE BILLION pounds in the decade. Some £1.3bn was spent on players while £395m came back in.

That's a bigger net spend than second placed Manchester City on £826m, Paris St Germain who shelled out £790m and Barcelona who burned through £546m in the same period.

The difference between United and the other teams in the top four is they won at least five league titles in their decade of decadence while the Red Devils have managed it just once – under Sir Alex Ferguson back in 2012-13.

The name in fifth spot comes as a shock with Arsenal there after spending £492m and winning almost nothing.

Everton are up there in eighth spot ahead of Liverpool who are only 14th.

That's largely because of their big incomings for Luis Suarez and Philippe Coutinho. They have brought in a total of £660m in transfer fees which is almost double United's figure.

The Reds' net spend is a mere £293m which is less than £30m a season.

The figures have been put together by the Football Observatory who say they have been through all sources to put a figure on deals where the clubs didn't disclose the fee.

Looking at the current Premier League sides, Brentford are the only team to have made a net profit in the past decade which Norwich have spent less than £3m.

It's easy to see why United are top of the table.

They smashed the Premier League transfer

BIG DEAL: Coutinho record to sign back Paul Pogba from Juventus for £89.5m in 2016.

They shelled out £36m for Anthony Martial and £40m for Donny van de Beek and both players have left the club at least for the time being with nothing recouped.

Another surprise is to see Aston Villa sit in ninth place just ahead of Chelsea.

The Villans have spent £700m on players and brought in less than £250.

Chelsea have been massive spenders at £1.3bn but sold players worth £1bn in the same period.

DEC CAN LEAD LIONS

Rice will be England skipper says Moyes

By JOHN ANTHONY

DAVID Moyes is backing Declan Rice to be the next England skipper.

Harry Kane currently has the honour of wearing the Three Lions armband.

But the Spurs hitman will be 29 this summer and Rice has almost seven years on him. The West

Ham midfielder is rated one of the hottest prospects in the Premier League.

Club gaffer Moyes says he's worth at least £100m and is only getting better.

And the Scot thinks Rice will be the next long-term skipper of England.

Moyes said: "He's a really important player for West

Ham, he's someone who we value greatly and you can see what he means to the team.

"He's a really good individual and we're enjoying having him.

"As an individual, he's a really improving young man who's gaining a lot of experience.

"He's getting better and he learns an awful lot from Mark Noble. Rice should look at Harry Kane and all of those senior players he's involved with for England, and take as much from them as he can, because in the future I've got no doubt he's got a great chance of going on to be a future England captain.

"We're really pleased to have him and he's an impressive young man."
